THE FIFTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES.

This report is for the year ending December 31st, 1890.

A review of the twelve months shows that while substantial progress has been made, the Institution has not been able to meet all the demands for the extension of its usefulness because of lack of funds. Nevertheless, in some respects its financial position is better than ever before. The floating debt has been cancelled.

A bequest of $20,000 from Geo. S. Pepper, Esq., who generously remembered so many Philadelphia institutions in his will, has been received from his executors. The terms of the bequest are that the income only shall be used for the purposes of the Institution. The principal sum, therefore, has been added to the Endowment Fund.

The Associate Committee of Women, still as untiring as in the past, have this year sent to the Treasurer $4,500, "the interest" to be used for the use of the School as it now stands, or for a nucleus for a new building which will be able to accommodate the present pupils and those likely to come." Large as this sum is, it represents but a portion of the benefits the Institution is receiving from the interest and co-operation of these ladies in its work.

As both of these sums have been received since the first of June last, they do not appear in the Treasurer's report. His report shows in detail the receipts and expenditures and investment account from June 1st, 1889, to May 31st, 1890. Here we shall simply direct attention to certain general considerations suggested by it. The cost of maintaining the Museum and School was $10,763.77 for the Museum, and $17,323.72 for the School, making a total of $28,087.49. To meet this expenditure we had the income from the Endowment Fund, $3,852 ; membership dues, $950 ; tuition fees, $4,599 ; appropriation by the Legislature of $10,000, applied to the School ; wages of the employees at Memorial Hall (the Museum), repaid by the Commissioners of Fairmount Park out of the appropriation by Councils, $7,695.36, making a total of $27,096.36. The cost of heating and otherwise maintaining and repairing Memorial Hall, provided for by the city appropriation to the Park Commissioners, does not pass through our account, as it is paid for directly by the Commissioners.

The fact which is of most concern in the above statement is the small amount of income which the Institution can consider as its own, as against the total expenditure, showing how dependent we are on the appropriations to maintain the Institution on its present basis of usefulness. While we may, perhaps, count with reasonable certainty upon the continuance of these appropriations, such continuance is by no means absolutely sure, and in the meantime we should strive to make the Institution independent of these contingencies. The withdrawal of one or the other appropriation at the present time would compel the closing of the Museum or a portion of the School.

Under the terms of the Temple Trust three-fifths of the income are to be expended for the purchase of objects for the Museum. Out of this fund there has been purchased this year a plaster cast of the famous Pulpit by Niccola Pisano in the Cathedral at Siena. Workmen are now putting the cast in place in the Rotunda at Memorial Hall. It is proposed to make purchases from time to time of other casts of a like nature, and to devote this portion of the Hall to their display.

The popularity of the Museum is indicated by the number of its visitors. There were upwards of 312,000 visited it last year. As in each previous year, more than half the total were Sunday visitors. In other words, the number of visitors on a Sunday is greater than the sum of all the visitors on the six week days. Granting that a large proportion of this multitude are mere pleasure seekers, the admission carries with it a strong argument for the maintenance of the Museum. With intelligence quickened, with interest awakened by the sight of the objects on view, many of these pleasure seekers become knowledge seekers. Few persons besides those who have made a study of educational methods, realize what "a persuasive lure" to study a public museum can be made. In this view the support of the Museum should commend itself to all who are interested in the advancement of education.

Notwithstanding the crowded condition of the School referred to

COPY OF PULPIT IN CATHEDRAL OF SIENA
BY NICCOLA PISANO, A. D. 1206-78

in last year's report, room has been made at considerable inconvenience to teachers and pupils for some fifty more scholars. It is, therefore, imperative that better accommodation be provided at the earliest possible moment. We have reached the limit of our usefulness with the means at our command. How to do this becomes simply a question of the generous philanthropy of a few wealthy people, or a general subscription measuring the public interest in an educational work.

The proposal of the University of Pennsylvania to sell the Institution a site for a building in the University grounds, which was referred to this Board for action at the last annual meeting, was carefully considered and declined on the ground that the Board did not see its way clear at the time to accept the proposal. No other place has since been suggested.

Correspondence has been had with a committee of the U. S. Potters' Association relative to a proposal from them for the establishment of a Ceramic Department of the School, to be conducted in much the same manner as the Textile Department is conducted. The questions involved are still under consideration.

The record of this year is clouded by one sad event—the death of Mr. Frederic Graff, one of our Vice-Presidents, and for a number of years Chairman of the Executive Committee. Mr. Graff was one of our most active members, a man of conservative mind and sound judgment, a wise counsellor and friend.

Two vacancies in the Trustees elected by the Corporation—one caused by the death of Mr. Graff, the other by the appointment of Mr. S. G. Thompson as the representative of the Commissioners of Fairmount Park—were filled temporarily by the election of Mr. Chas. E. Dana and Mr. T. P. Chandler, Jr. The only change in the officers was the election of Mr. Stuart Wood as Treasurer in the place of Mr. J. H. Dingee, who declined re-election.

Following are the reports of the Curator of the Museum and the Principal of the School.

THE MUSEUM.

The average yearly increase in the number of visitors to the Museum since it was opened free to the public, nine years ago, is about twenty thousand. This year 312,322 persons visited the Museum. Of this number 171,135 were Sunday visitors. The largest attendance on any one day was on July 4th, when 14,036 persons were admitted to the building.

The large marble altar, a beautiful example of modern Italian art workmanship, which was loaned by its owner for exhibition at the Centennial, and after that event was left in the custody of the Museum until its final location should be determined, was removed during the year to St. Mary's church in West Philadelphia.

Within a few weeks a plaster cast of the pulpit by Niccola Pisano in the Cathedral of Siena, has been received from abroad and its erection in the Rotunda begun.

It is proposed to devote this portion of the Hall to the display of architectural casts; an arrangement which will accord well with the plan of the building.

Last spring permission was given the Fairmount Park Art Association to exhibit temporarily in the Rotunda the original plaster model of Wolf's "Lion-Fighter." The group was brought here and put in place, and has attracted much notice.

Gifts of objects were made by—

Specimens of Lace.

E. A. MARSH, Supt. Waltham Watch Co. :

Parts of Watch.

MRS. E. E. GIRARD :

Eight volumes were added to the Library by purchase.

Gifts of books were received from—

Commissioners of Fairmount Park, Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts.

DALTON DORR, Curator.

THE SCHOOL.

The growth of the School, as noted in former reports, has continued during the year, not only without interruption, but with such rapidity that the limit of our accommodations was reached some time ago, so that a considerable number of applicants have had to be refused admission and all enlargement of the facilities has been effectually stopped for want of room.

This is encouraging in one way, of course, as showing that the work of the School is receiving the kind of recognition and appreciation which is most to be valued, but it is very much to be regretted that the accommodations and equipment are on so limited a scale as to make further advance impossible until some radical change is made in the matter of buildings.

The most important change that has been made in organization has been the incorporation of the work in carving with the course in modelling as part of the regular requirements of this course, instead of being regarded as a special course by itself. Special students of carving are still received, but the best and most important work of the class is that which forms part of the modelling course and which is now required of all pupils in this course.

The change is a salutary and important one, and is quite in line with the efforts which have been made all along toward giving as far as possible a practical industrial turn to the work of the School in every department.

The class is now in charge of Mr. A. C. Simons, who was the assistant teacher last year.

The Department of Chemistry and Dyeing has been placed in charge of Mr. Edward Gudeman, Ph. B., in place of Mr. R. L. Chase, who resigned in October last. Mr. Paul Lachenmeyer, Miss Helen A. Fox, and Mr. Vernon H. Bailey have been appointed assistants in the Drawing Classes.

Gifts of materials and loom fixtures have been made by the following to the Textile Department: Mr. Wm. Weeden, R. Sergeson & Co., and Mr. Albert Coupe.

Fifty-four volumes and ten engravings were added to the School Library during the year, of which forty were purchased, thirteen by the School and twenty-seven from funds derived from other sources.

Ten engravings from Raphael's "Decorations of the Vatican Loggia" were given by Mr. John Moss, Jr., and fourteen volumes were given by Mr. Richard Cadbury, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Wm. E. Hulme, Mr. S. R. Koehler, C. H. Banes, E. H. Coates, E. A. Posselt, J. M. Wilson, State Library University of New York, Metropolitan Museum of Art, and Boston Museum of Art. This makes a total of three hundred and sixty-two volumes now in the Library, besides the engravings noted above.

A prize of $10.00, which was offered by Mrs. W. Hinckle Smith, of the Associate Committee of Women, for a design for a programme to be used at the ball given at the Academy of Music on the evening of December 11th, 1890, was awarded to Miss Mary L. Price.

The usual closing exercises were held in Memorial Hall, May 31st, 1890. Addresses were made by the President, Mr. Frank Miles Day, Mr. D. F. Haynes, Mr. G. H. Davis, Mrs. E. D. Gillespie, and Mr. Frank B. Bennett.

An exhibition of students' work was made at the same time and place, which remained open during the summer.

Four appointments to the State Scholarships have been made by the Governor during the year, viz.: For Centre, Chester, Cumberland, and Clearfield Counties. Eleven holders of these appointments are at present registered in the School.

The scholarships placed at the disposal of the Board of Education of the city were filled, as usual, by a competitive examination conducted by the Principal, each grammar-school principal being authorized to send candidates. It is gratifying to note that this method of making appointments, which was adopted in 1887, is producing excellent results; the class of students admitted being better qualified each year, and a considerable increase of interest, on the part of public school teachers and pupils alike, having already resulted from this arrangement.

The following certificates and prizes were awarded at the closing exercises at the end of the year :

REGULAR DEPARTMENT.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
ASSOCIATE COMMITTEE OF WOMEN.

The work of this Committee has never been undertaken with more zeal, nor carried forward to greater success than during the year 1890.

Interest in both Museum and School is aroused and the public awakened to the fact that in the institution is found, as ex-Governor Beaver expresses it, "one of the great educational agencies of our goodly Commonwealth."

Our citizens are learning that if the purity of our government is to be preserved, it will be owing largely to the education of our youth, girls as well as boys, and that the best protection for our manufacturers will come from the training of the young according to the talents which God has given them.

Thus may we honestly compete with workers in foreign countries where education is compulsory. This, in a small degree, we have already accomplished. Many of our pupils are now filling positions heretofore held by foreigners. Our graduates are scattered over this broad land as teachers and designers; some appointed to places after competitive examination with pupils of other schools, and nothing but praise of their capability to fill the positions to which they have been called comes to us from their employers.

But we cannot stop here; our tree must put forth new branches. Engravers, potters, architects, etc., are asking to be engrafted with us. There are no limits to the "School of Industrial Art," and there will be none if from our State and our citizens the means can speedily be found to enlarge the capacity of our now overcrowded School Building.

If this can be done, those who live after us will bless the Exhibition of 1876, which gave birth to the Institution whose claims are now but imperfectly set before the intelligent public of the State of Pennsylvania.

During last season a public reception was tendered by the Trustees and their associates to Mrs. Bloomfield-Moore, whose generous contributions to the Museum have greatly added to its interest. Ill health prevented Mrs. Moore from accepting the invitation.

The annual report of the Treasurer of the Associate Committee is appended hereto.

By order of the Committee.

MATILDA H. SHELTON,

Jan. 2d, 1891.
